About this Training

This training gives participants a practical, hands-on understanding of Scrum as defined in the official Scrum Guide, with a focus on the Scrum Master's accountabilities in building and coaching effective, self-managing teams. Through exercises, discussions, and real-world scenarios, participants gain the knowledge needed to apply Scrum successfully and prepare for the Professional Scrum Master I (PSM I) certification from Scrum.org.

Learning Objectives

- Understand Scrum theory, values, and the empirical process.
- Apply the Scrum framework: roles, events, and artifacts.
- Understand the accountabilities of the Scrum Master, Product Owner, and Developers.
- Coach and facilitate self-managing, cross-functional teams.
- Support effective Sprint Planning, Daily Scrum, Sprint Review, and Retrospective events.
- Help the team and organization remove impediments and improve continuously.
- Recognize common Scrum anti-patterns and misapplications.
- Prepare for and pass the official Scrum.org PSM I assessment.

Program

Day 1	Empirical process control, Scrum values, the Scrum Team and accountabilities, the Product Backlog and Product Owner role, Sprint Planning and the Sprint Goal
Day 2	Daily Scrum, Sprint Review and Retrospective, the Scrum Master as a servant leader and coach, scaling and organizational impact, exam preparation and practice questions

Prerequisites

There are no formal prerequisites to attend the training.

Exam Information

- The official PSM I assessment consists of 80 multiple-choice, multiple-answer, and true/false questions.
- A score of 85% is required to pass.
- Duration: 60 minutes, taken online and open-book, directly through Scrum.org.
- One exam attempt is included with the training; the certification does not expire.
